"JERUSALEM, the Golden," was approprintely sung at the funeral of the American Croesus.

It was very hard for some West Vi ginia statesmen to let go their four dollars a day, but they did it after fortythree days.

The Dressed Beef Business. Figures furnished by the Trunk Line Association show the remarkable growth and present volume of receipts of dressed beef at New York alone:

1888 82
1889 41	412,962

450,260 This is a wonderful record for sever years. It will be noticed that while the dressed beef receipts for last year were more than 100,000 tons, the receipts of cattle, given in tons, were very much greater than in 1882, the year in which the dressed beef industry got its foothold in that market. It is also to be remarked that the cattle tounage continues to increase notwithstanding the growth of the dressed beef business.

The bridge builders of to-day know how to produce the very best results in steel. A steel bridge will not only be good enough, but it will serve the purpose better than a stone bridge. more is to be desired in a bridge?

A bridge must be built. It ought to be a steel bridge. The remaining question is how to provide the money to build the bridge, The resolution offered in the First Branch of Council by Mr.
Wilson points the way. Instead of asking the people to authorize another loan, adding to the other loans and pilling up more interest charges, "appropriate $55,000 out of the revenues of the city for the year 1890."

The police are going to have a hard job to snatch the rascal from the admirers whose dinners he has been graciously pleased to devour. Are we to have a new edition of "The Book of Snobs?"

Mr. D. Rinchard, who while on a hunt for one of the disreputable dives in Alley C got into the domicile of a decent family and raised a disturbance, was arraigned on a charge of disorder; the difference between his case and that of limehard's was that Hillion raised a row in McGinley's saloon on the South in McGinley's saloon on the South in McGinley's saloon on a cash basis. A Move to Secure a County Home-Circuit Court Matters-White Capism.

Circuit Court meets next Monday with Judge Fault on the bench. A grand Jury has been summoned and owing to the subjectures already issued and the number of Cases certified from justices' dockets, it will be a bury day. Circuit Court Clerk e. F. Lazear always manages to look his best on auch occasions.

Something bordering on "White Capism" occurred on last Saturday night to Mr. Leonard Easterlay, a prominent shoemaker of Weilsburg, in which some known parties filled his shop chimney full of straw, with the purpose of smoking him out. It was fun for the boys, but very rough on Mr. Easterday, as he came near sufficacting from the smoke before he awoke. As yet no arrests have been made, but no doubt the young men will yet be made to a nawer for the outrage.

hand to make the World's Fair a success in Chicago. The World is a little grumpy. The Times is very warm in the collar.

While the Washington correspondent of the Times says that, among other reasons for New York's failure was "her over-confidence to take the thing it wanted whenever it pleased, without resorting to foundation-laying," he says further that the real reason is to be found in a combination of the Administration, Matthew S. Quay, the Republican National Committee and Thomas C. Platt, of New York.

The Times is seeing spooks. Better shake off the mantle of provincialism, get an outfit of American flags and go to work to make the show worthy of the United States of America.

OBITUARY.

Sadnest fills many hearts here to-day, caused by the death of George Wilby Roseberry, oldest son of John Roseberry, Fro. George Wilby was a young man about 19 years of age, who died February 21, 1890, at 67:00 p. m. He was a noble young man, and had host of friends, who now young man, and had host of friends, who now have the sympathy of this entire community. The following poem was written by a friend and read at the funeral:

There is saddless in our hearts today,
For Christ to earth has come.
And taken one we loved away,
To be with lifm at home.

Near nineteen years on earth he stayed, His mission to fulfill; Then Jesus said, "now Wilby come To heaven your place to fill."

For fifty-eight long days and nights, His face revealed his pain, But at the last when Jesus came, The smile came back again.

His parting words to all his friends, And oht he had so many: His last request to all, "Be good," His last words they were, "Annie." Father, mother, and sisters dear, Jesus has come, and I must go, To all I bld adleu.

Now, father, and mother, so sad to-day, May your nearts be filled with Joy., When Jesus comes to call you home To heaven to meet your boy. Dallas, W. Va. Feb. 21, 1830.
